Our commitment to you

When you article with Ross & McBride, you'll learn from award-winning lawyers from a diverse range of practice groups. Our articling students enjoy flexibility, autonomy, independence, and the opportunity to tailor their articling experience to their personal areas of interest. With the support of an accomplished articling principal, each student benefits from a unique learning and working experience, backed by expert guidance and the resources of a full-service law firm.

Without a formal rotation program, you'll have the option to work with each one of our practice groups throughout your articling term. You can gain experience in both solicitor and barrister work, which is a great way to broaden your perspectives and build transferable skills that will create a strong foundation for your legal career. Outside the office, you'll have opportunities to attend events in the legal and business communities.

What our students say about us

“Articling at Ross & McBride has given me the chance to learn from lawyers with decades of experience in their fields. As a firm with deep roots in the city, Ross & McBride’s values align with my own as an active community volunteer.”

- Alora Fortino, Class of 2022

“At Ross & McBride, I’ve been able to participate in a wide range of work spanning multiple practice areas. This helped me build on my interest in business law while gaining different perspectives that will add valuable insight to my future practice.”

- Eric Freeman, Class of 2022
